About Me

I'm Feng Wei – a PhD student of Department of Computer Science and Engineering at University at Buffalo (SUNY). My major advisor is Dr. Hongxin Hu, and I am also co-advised by Dr. Ziming Zhao. I received my M.S. in Computer Science from Clemson University and B.E. in Automation from Xi'an Jiaotong University. My research focuses on Network Security, especially on deep learning based Network Intrusion Detection System (DL-NIDS). My work is supported by Amazon Research Award (ARA 2021)
